Attorneys for the Liza Weiman Hanks IRA, Solomon Smith Barney as Custodian

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

SECURITIES INVESTOR PROTECTION
CORPORATION,

Plaintiff,

v.

BERNARD L. MADOFF INVESTMENT
SECURITIES LLC,

Defendant.

Adv. Pro. No. 08-01789 (BRL)

SIPA Liquidation

OBJECTION TO TRUSTEE'S DETERMINATION OF CLAIM

The Liza Weiman Hanks IRA, Solomon Smith Barney as Custodian ("Weiman Hanks IRA"), by and through its attorneys, hereby objects to the Notice of Trustee's Determination of Claim dated December 8, 2009 (“Determination Letter”), attached as Exhibit A, as described herein.

BACKGROUND

1. On December 11, 2008, the above-captioned liquidation proceeding was commenced against BMIS, pursuant to SIPA. See Order, Securities and Exchange Commission v. Madoff, No. 08-10791 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2008) (ordering relief under SIPA and transferring proceeding to the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of New York) [Dkt. No. 4]. Irving Picard was appointed Trustee (“BMIS Trustee”), charged with overseeing the liquidation of BMIS and processing customer claims for money pursuant to SIPA. Id.; see also 15 U.S.C. 78fff-1(a).

2. The Weiman Hanks IRA is an investor in IV-S Investments and, on information and belief (including information provided by Stanley Chais, principal of The Lambeth Company), IV-S Investments was an investor in The Lambeth Company, which is, upon information and belief, a “customer,” as defined by the Securities Investor Protection Act of 1970 (“SIPA”), of BMIS. Thus, the Weiman Hanks IRA has an interest in certain claims belonging to The Lambeth Company in the BMIS liquidation proceeding.

3. On December 23, 2008, the Court issued an Order directing the Trustee to disseminate notice and claim forms to BMIS customers and setting forth claim-filing deadlines. See Order [Dkt. No. 12]. Upon information and belief, the BMIS Trustee disseminated notice and claim forms to BMIS’s customers in accordance with the Court’s Order.

4. The December 23, 2008 Order further provided that, to the extent the BMIS Trustee disagrees with the amount set forth on a customer claim form, the BMIS Trustee “shall notify such claimant by mail of his determination that the claim is disallowed, in whole or in part, and the reason therefor . . .” See Order at 6 (emphasis added) [Dkt. No. 12].

5. Upon information and belief, The Lambeth Company did not timely file a customer claim form and has not prosecuted its claim in the BMIS liquidation proceeding.

6. On or about June 22, 2009, the Weiman Hanks IRA submitted a customer claim form to SIPC, which was designated as Claim No. 010820 by the BMIS Trustee (“Weiman Hanks IRA Customer Claim”) (Exhibit B).¹

7. On December 8, 2009, the BMIS Trustee sent the Weiman Hanks IRA the Determination Letter disallowing the Weiman Hanks IRA’s claim in its entirety on the basis that “it is not a customer of BLMIS under SIPA as that term is defined at 15 U.S.C. § 7811(2).” See Determination Letter (Exhibit A).

OBJECTION

8. The Weiman Hanks IRA hereby objects to the Determination Letter on the basis that the Weiman Hanks IRA should not be deprived of the opportunity to have its claim addressed simply because The Lambeth Company has not filed a customer claim or has otherwise failed to prosecute or defend any claim against the debtor.

9. First Objection. Normally, bankruptcy law prevents parties whose claims are derived from the claim of a creditor from seeking to recover on such derived claims from the debtor. Such rules are designed to prevent duplicate recoveries arising from what amounts to a single legal claim. See Bankruptcy Code §§ 502(e), 509. However, bankruptcy law also recognizes that the derivative claimant should be permitted to file such a claim when the direct creditor fails or refuses to file a claim since, in such cases, there is no risk of a double recovery.

For example, bankruptcy law provides that “[i]f a creditor does not timely file a proof of such creditor’s claim, an entity that is liable to such creditor with the debtor, or that has secured such creditor, may file a proof of such claim.” See Bankruptcy Code § 501(b); see also Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3005(a). These principles apply here and it is only appropriate and equitable that the Weiman Hanks IRA’s customer claim be considered in the place of BMIS customer The Lambeth Company when The Lambeth Company has sat on its own rights, which has, by extension, deprived the Weiman Hanks IRA of its rights. Moreover, there is no danger of double recoveries because The Lambeth Company failed to file its claim by the July 2, 2009 bar date and its claim is thus barred.

10. Second Objection. The BMIS Trustee has encouraged all those who lost money due to the Madoff Ponzi scheme to file customer claim forms. This includes investors such as the Weiman Hanks IRA that invested “indirectly” with BMIS. The BMIS Trustee has clearly contemplated a scenario whereby “indirect” investors, such as the Weiman Hanks IRA, would be entitled to have their claims allowed and/or paid in this proceeding. To the extent that any such “indirect” claims are allowed and/or “indirect” claimants are deemed “customer(s)” under SIPA by virtue of the present statute, any amended statute, any decision or ruling of any administrative agency, any decision or ruling by SIPC or the Madoff Trustee, or any decision or order of any court, the Weiman Hanks IRA reserves the right to challenge any determination of its claim by the BMIS Trustee.

RELIEF REQUESTED

11. For the reasons stated herein, the Weiman Hanks IRA’s claim should be allowed insofar as it is part of The Lambeth Company’s claim.

12. To the extent the Weiman Hanks IRA's claim is deemed to be filed on behalf of The Lambeth Company, the Weiman Hanks IRA reserves the right to supplement its claim and submit further objections to any Determination of Claim directed to the Weiman Hanks IRA, including but not limited to the right to object to the BMIS Trustee's method of calculating "net equity" or other objections to the method by which the BMIS Trustee has calculated the amount of the claim.

13. The Weiman Hanks IRA requests such other relief as may be just and equitable.

CONCLUSION

14. The Weiman Hanks IRA reserves the right to revise, supplement, or amend this Objection, and any failure to object on a particular ground or grounds shall not be construed as a waiver of the Weiman Hanks IRA's right to object on any additional grounds.

15. The Weiman Hanks IRA reserves all rights set forth Rule 9014, including, without limitation, rights of discovery. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9014.

16. The Weiman Hanks IRA reserves all objections as to the competence, relevance, materiality, privilege, or admissibility of evidence in any subsequent proceeding or trial of this or any other action for any purpose whatsoever.

17. The Weiman Hanks IRA incorporates by reference all reservations of rights set forth in the Weiman Hanks IRA's Customer Claim.
